

Markers give lower endpoints; thick bars give computational ranges
Thin bars give pointwise 95% binomial envelopes
(a) Poisson curves use solid A and dashed B; (b,c) dashed zero is the reference